This is a standard advance directive for your state, made available to you as a courtesy by Lifecare Directives, LLC. You should be aware that extensive research has demonstrated that there are significant drawbacks to using a very brief state-standard document. As one researcher has noted, "the development of statutory forms occurs in the legislative arena, [so] their content is the result of a political rather than a 'scientific' process." Because of "political compromise, ...many of the forms ultimately passed by the legislatures are not optimal from a consumer perspective" (see: Hoffmann, Diane E; Zimmerman, S; Tompkins, C. The dangers of directives, or the false security of forms. Journal of Law, Medicine & Ethics. 1996;24(1) (Spring):5-17).

American Bar Association concurs, noting that "The statutory advance directive is not necessarily the exclusive, or even the best, pathway for individuals to follow," and suggesting that revised and enhanced documents "may be especially helpful as a...replacement for statutory forms where restrictions in a statutory directive prevents the individual from fully expressing his or her wishes" (see: American Bar Association. (1991). Patient Self Determination Act State Law Guide. Government printing office, Washington, DC).

Lifecare Directives staff have reviewed more than 6,000 medical, legal, academic, and news media articles on advance directives, as well as reviewing hundreds of document forms. They have also conducted formal research with scores of medical, legal, and academic processionals along with more than 1,000 lay public participants. From this process, more than 30 additional key living will and medical power of attorney enhancements have been identified that should be included in any living will (or "health care instruction" or "declaration") and medical power of attorney (or "proxy") forms that you may use.

Please consider obtaining the Lifecare Advance Healthcare Directive to obtain these important additions and benefits. To better understand the important enhancements available through this combined living will and medical power of attorney, you may wish to obtain the booklet, "Should I Use a Shorter Standard Directive?" available through Lifecare Directives, LLC.

Standard Advance Directive For Massachusetts Residents

Your right (when age 18 or older): To Document Your Personal Wishes, and to have these wishes followed ~~

The Massachusetts legislature has sanctioned the use of a Health Care Proxy by which to name an agent to make health care choices if you are ever unable to do so. However, it has not provided a statutory Living Will for use by the public. Even so, many state and federal courts facing treatment choice dilemmas have urged the completion of a living will, and have noted that there is a constitutional right to control medical care by the use of such documents. In response to such findings, Lifecare staff have produced a "standard" (content limited) living will to assist in securing these important rights. An abbreviated Health Care Proxy form has also been provided. Together, these documents are referred to as an "advance directive."

Each has an introduction that summarizes the scope and purpose of the documents, as well as providing directions for completion. Read them carefully to ensure that your Advance Directives are fully and properly filled out.

Understanding Your Directive:

To make the best choices for your medical care, your physician needs to know your wishes. In fact, the law requires doctors to seek your permission before giving you any treatment. However, if you are ever unable to speak due to severe illness or injury, this may not be possible. Completing an Advance Directive will help your family and physicians know who should speak for you, and understand what you want, if you cannot speak for yourself.

You can revoke (cancel) this directive at any time in any manner "evidencing a specific intent to revoke" (§7). Lifecare staff recommend revocation by: 1) writing "revoked" across the front of the directive, followed by your signature and date, and the signature of at least one witness aged 18 years or older; or 2) by completing a Notice of Revocation; or 3) by telling an adult witness that you want it revoked (who must then sign and date a statement, which becomes effective only when given to your doctor or health care provider); or 4) by simply completing a new directive in which you state that any prior directive is no longer valid.

If you are unable to write, you may tell your directive witnesses what you want to have excluded, limited, or added to this directive. They must then sign, date, witness and/or notarize the statement of the limitations and exclusions as you have described them. Remember, unless you direct otherwise, this directive will only be used to guide your family and doctors if you are unable to make and communicate medical treatment decisions for yourself.

Instructions for Completing the Directive:

This directive is written in two parts. Neither document must be notarized to be valid, but both must be witnessed by two qualified adults. However, Lifecare staff recommend that you both notarize and witness your directives, to more fully ensure that others will honor your wishes. While it is best if you fill out the whole document, you may choose to complete only Section II, leaving just a Declaration of your values and wishes. Or you may complete only Section II, just naming someone to speak for you. However, this may leave your family and others without any evidence to support your wishes in the future, or leave them unsure who is to make decisions and speak for you. Thus, omitting either section may cause your loved ones difficulty if they must eventually make medical choices in your behalf. So, you are strongly encouraged to complete the entire directive.

To complete the document, you should initial in the underlined spaces provided beside all the questions that are asked, and fill in any blank lines as directed. Feel free to write "No," "None," or "Does Not Apply" in areas that would otherwise be left blank.

If there is anything in this Directive you do not understand, you should read the Guidebook, ask your physician or a health care professional, or call an attorney for help.

SECTION I: MASSACHUSETTS LIVING WILL

and Personal Instructions

(Pursuant to the Patient Self-Determination Act, 1990)

1. INTRODUCTION: This living will is established upon both common law and the 1990 Supreme Court ruling which acknowledges that all competent persons have a right to control their medical care through specific prior statements, whether expressed orally or in writing, and that such wishes remain valid even after loss of competence. Generally, clear evidence is needed of a person's treatment wishes, and many state courts have suggested that the "ideal situation" is one in which a person's wishes were expressed in some form of writing, such as a "living will" (see case In re: Westchester County Medical Center, 72 N.Y.2d 517 (1988)). This living will has been designed to secure this right.

However, this document has not been designed to support euthanasia (also known as "assisted suicide," "mercy killing," "physician-aid-in-dying," etc), which involves active steps to end a life (such as by medication overdose). Current research suggests that this should not be needed if individuals clearly document their wishes (including statements needed to secure comfort care), whereby the natural processes of dying are left unimpeded if they so desire. Please complete your Instruction as fully as possible to secure every right available to govern your future medical treatment.
